

PINK  COFFEE
PHOTO

First of all, congratulations! This is such a special time in your life, and I'm so excited about the opportunity to work with you! In this packet are some of the details about what to expect during our session, but if you have any additional questions please don't hesitate to ask.

Maternity/Newborn Package: $725

Here's what's included: A maternity photoshoot during the 7th-8th month of your pregnancy, a blog feature, and a high resolution cd that includes shared copyright to session images with reprint permission. Then once baby arrives, another photoshoot with the happy (but tired!) family, another blog feature, and a high resolution cd of that shoot as well. A 50% deposit is required to reserve your session date and is non-refundable. The balance is due on or before the session date. Prints are not included with the session fee, but may be purchased separately. Prices are on the following page.

If you prefer just a maternity or just a newborn shoot (rather than this bundled package), I'll be happy to send you my standard Portrait Pricing that only includes one photoshoot. To put things into perspective, if you purchased both shoots separately (with cds), the cost would be $1150.

ADD SOME CREME AND SUGAR TO ANY PACKAGE:

*Additional travel fees will apply outside the Northeast Florida area.

IT'S ALL IN THE DETAILS:

LOCATION

All sessions are shot on location in natural light. Choose a place that is comfortable for you, and your family. Shooting at the location of your choice allows you to express more of your personality. Get creative and have fun with it! Nothing is off limits.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Lots of fun! I love what I do and want you to feel relaxed while I capture images that reflect your personality.

WHAT TO WEAR

Whatever you want! This session is about you, so wear your personality. Does your family usually dress alike? Probably not. So why do it for pictures? The best pictures are the ones that showcase your personality. I don't care what you wear. Just be yourself!

PRE-SESSION

A 50% deposit is required to reserve your session date and is non-refundable. The balance is due on or before the session date. I want you to be comfortable and confident about your shoot, so don't be shy about asking questions! I can also offer recommendations about locations and clothing if you need help.

POST-SESSION

At the end of your session I will review the photos and add special touches that will enhance the images. Please allow 2-3 weeks for editing. At that time I'll make arrangements to deliver your high resolution cd.

WHAT YOUR SESSION INCLUDES

Maternity/Newborn packages include a maternity shoot during the 7th-8th month of your pregnancy, a blog feature, and a high resolution cd that includes shared copyright to session images with reprint permission. Then once baby arrives, another photoshoot with the happy (but tired!) family, another blog feature, and a high resolution cd of that shoot as well.

WHAT IT DOESN'T

Session fees do not include any prints. You can order print packages or a-la-carte images. View the pricing section on the previous pages for more information. Due to the custom nature of the portraits, payment for prints is due in full at the time of ordering. Payment can be made by cash, check, or credit card through www.paypal.com. Please allow 3 weeks for your portraits to be ready for pick-up/ delivery, unless otherwise noted.
